

VIOLENCE
AT OUTSETSerious Clashes in Many Coal
Mine Regions of Germany

AND MANY PEOPLE INJURED

Two Thousand Strikers at Homborn
Waited for Workers With Stones, Bottles and Revolvers This Morning—
All Great Britain in Ferment.

Berlin, Germany, March 12.—Collisions between strikers, police and non-strikers are reported to have occurred to-day in six or eight localities in the coal regions, where the miners went on strike yesterday. The most serious conflict was near Homborn, where, according to the dispatches, two thousand strikers, who were waiting for the workers, threw stones and bottles and fired revolvers at a detachment of policemen who were on guard, injuring many people.

London, March 12.—At present almost the entire nation is under notice to quit work as a result of the coal strike. Including the miners there are probably nearly 2,000,000 persons already idle, and should the strike be prolonged throughout next week perhaps half of Great Britain's workers will be unemployed. The distress is widespread now, and the drain on funds is so great that some of the unions are already showing distress signals. The courts are refusing to grant judgments and summonses on the ground that the common necessities of life are beyond the reach of many of the poor.

The National Miners' federation unanimously decided last night to accept the prime minister's invitation to meet the coal owners and the representatives of the government at a round table conference, at which Premier Asquith will preside. The acceptance was coupled with the reservation that the principle of a minimum wage scale will be excluded from the discussion. It is understood that this means that the granting of a minimum wage will be assumed to have been conceded, but it does not imply that the schedule of minimum wage rates drawn up by the miners' federation will not be discussed.

The coal owners have not accepted the miners' invitation. Even if the Welsh and Scotch owners stand aloof, it is taken for granted that the English owners will accept.

The most hoped for from the conference is that some basis of agreement will be reached for the fixing of a minimum rate which will be submitted to a ballot of the miners. That the strike will continue for at least another week is now regarded as inevitable. It has practically been determined that the coal strike must be ended by agreement, or immediate legislation will be invoked to bring about compulsory peace. A time limit for the negotiations is demanded on all sides and Thursday is expected to see parliamentary action unless the extremists on both sides relax in the meantime sufficiently to enable a settlement by consent.

DIDN'T AGREE ON ANSWER.

Coal Operators Had Three Hours' Conference Yesterday.

New York, March 12.—Ten anthracite coal operators comprising a committee of the operators in the Pennsylvania fields, held a three hours' session here yesterday afternoon to draft a letter in reply to the demands of the United Mine Workers of America for increased wages, recognition of the union, shorter working day, a one-year agreement and other changes.

At a meeting of the operators on March 5, the committee was appointed "with full power to represent the operators and with instructions to formulate a reply in writing to the mine workers, declining their demands." The fact that the letter had not been completed after three hours' consideration yesterday, led to rumors that a compromise might be under discussion. One of the operators said that the committee had discussed the situation from all angles, but had not concluded its reply.

The committee will meet again on Wednesday morning, and that afternoon it will submit the reply to the miners. None of the officers of the miners' organization was in the city last night but word was received from President John P. White of Indianapolis, that he and his colleagues would reach New York to-night or Wednesday morning. The price of coal was increased still more yesterday, due to an advance of approximately 25 cents a ton for light-erage charges from City to New York. Some dealers are now charging $1.25 a ton more for certain grades than the usual rates. The operators assert that they have not advanced the price, but that the increases are due to middlemen and retail dealers.

HOPE IS DEFERRED
IN LAWRENCE TO-DAYConference Which Was Hoped to End
the Textile Operatives' Strike
Was Not Held, Owing to Misunderstanding.

Lawrence, Mass., March 12.—Lawrence still awaits the end of the textile strike. The end, which appeared in sight a few days ago, was further delayed by developments yesterday and to-day. Misunderstandings as to the conference between officials of the American Woolen Co. and the strikers' committee prevented such a meeting yesterday. It is expected that arrangements will be made for a conference in Boston to-day.

A petition for an injunction restraining the strikers' committee from using $150,000 for the purpose of carrying on the strike has also involved matters. A big crowd that turned out for picket duty to-day developed no serious trouble. Agents of all the mills said there was an increase in the number of operatives reporting for work. However, the strike leaders dispute the statements, claiming that the strikers are holding their own.

LEWINSKI'S BAIL
WAS FIXED AT $3,800Attempted Murderer of Broker Hill in Boston Couldn't Furnish It and
He Was Taken to Jail
To-day.

Boston, March 12.—H. Lewinski, who yesterday shot and seriously wounded Spencer Richardson Hill, a broker, appeared to-day before Judge Sullivan in municipal court and was held in $3,800 for the April term of the grand jury. Lewinski was unable to secure bonds.

He pleaded not guilty and waived examination to the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill Hill. The latter is resting comfortably at the City hospital.

Last night Lewinski calmly told the police that he had also intended to shoot another member of the firm, Fred E. James. He was disarmed before he could cross the room to Mr. James.

Lewinski says he bought the revolver ten years ago, and with it a box of 50 Winchester cartridges. It is of the British bulldog pattern and a 32-calibre, seven-chambered gun. Two weeks ago, the prisoner said, he went out into the country and tried the cartridges. As the first two he discharged missed fire, he bought a new supply of cartridges Saturday, returning to his room, where he oiled and primed the revolver.

Asked by the police about the rest of the cartridges, Lewinski gave the police an order on his landlady at 29 Rutland square. A policeman went to the house and found the cartridges. Later in the day the prisoner asked to have a letter written by himself mailed to a "Mr. Morse at 25 Johnson road, Dorchester." After reading the letter, Capt. Sullivan allowed one of his men to put it in the mail.

At 29 Rutland square, where Lewinski lived, he was almost as much a stranger as if he never lived there. He never mingled with the others since he took his room there last fall. He gave no explanations about himself and said nothing about his past life. So far as is known, he had no visitors, but he was generally up and about the city, to return again late at night. He had a room on the top floor and paid his rent regularly.

BOSTON CHURCH WAS

DAMAGED $50,000

The Clarendon Street Baptist Structure
Caught Fire While a Meeting Was In Progress Last Night.

Boston, March 12.—While half a hundred young people were attending a meeting of the Christian Endeavor society in the vestry of the Clarendon street Baptist church, last night, persons on the outside discovered flames breaking through the roof. The young people were notified and all were able to leave the building unassisted except a blind woman, who was carried out.

The inside of the church building, which is of brick, two stories in height and with a tall steeple, was damaged by fire and water to the extent of $50,000. Falling slates from the roof and the danger of the collapse of the steeple made it a dangerous place to fight.

While the flames were at their height, James A. Floyd, one of the deacons of the church, made his way to the pastor's study on the second floor, and at the risk of his life, saved a large picture of Dr. Hagne, one of the first pastors of the church, and a lot of valuable church papers and records. The pastor, the Rev. James A. Francis, got out from a sick bed to go to the fire.

The building is one of the oldest church structures in the city and is used jointly by the church society and the Gordon Theological school a branch of the Newton Theological seminary. It is thought electric light wires may have been responsible for the fire.

GIVEN STATE DINNER.

Secretary Knox Was Honored in San Salvador Last Night.

San Salvador, March 12.—At a state dinner last night by the foreign minister in honor of the American secretary of state, Mr. Knox made a plea for closer intercourse between the republics. The dinner was held at the palace and was the chief function of the secretary's visit to San Salvador. A flattering welcome was accorded Mr. Knox by the many prominent Salvadorans present, and the foreign minister, in his speech, spoke in most eulogistic terms of the United States and the man who had been sent to Central America to represent the American government.

In reply Mr. Knox said: "The opening of the Panama canal shortens by 10,000 miles, the water route between Acapulco and New York, which should be naturally one of the chief markets for the products of Salvador. When Central American products become popularized in the United States, trade with our Caribbean neighbors will grow to an enormous extent. The people of the United States have been too ignorant of their southern neighbors and their undeveloped resources. Friendship and peace will result from the reciprocal dependence of the countries upon each other's products and sympathies and assistance."

CATSUP SEIZED.

United States Says Jersey Product Is Full of Bacteria.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 12.—The federal authorities here yesterday seized 8,280 bottles of tomato catsup shipped from a New Jersey plant. Steps have been taken to have the stuff destroyed, although the bottles are labeled choice. It is contended by the government that they contain 60,000,000 bacteria to each one-sixth of a cubic millimeter.

TURNED DOWN
AS A JURORCol. Roosevelt Was Rejected as a Busy Man To-day

PLAINLY WAS DISCONCERTED

Attorney John J. Graham, Counsel for Michael Carmody, Who Was Suing
New York Central Railroad, Promptly Challenged Him.

Mineola, L. I., March 12.—Theodore Roosevelt was drawn as a juror to-day in the damage suit of Michael Carmody against the New York Central railroad, but was quickly eliminated by John J. Graham, the plaintiff's counsel, who challenged the colonel preemptorily. Carmody had both legs cut off, and at a previous trial of the case a verdict of $30,000 was given. The appellate division ordered a new trial of the case, reversing the judgment.

In explaining why he challenged Col. Roosevelt as a juror, Attorney Graham said that Roosevelt is a busy man. The latter was plainly disconcerted when he stepped down from the jury box after being challenged and rejected.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., March 12.—As the next step in the campaign for the Republican presidential nomination, Col. Roosevelt will present his views upon the regulation of "big business." He said yesterday that he would take this action soon, although it has not been decided whether his statement will appear in the form of a letter or a magazine article.

Colonel Roosevelt has made an analysis of the present economic position of the country, with the idea of applying to it his opinions as to control of large corporations. The hardships of an old-fashioned campaign, with mass meetings, parades and brass bands, are already confronting Colonel Roosevelt, but he has decided it will be necessary for him to make some speeches he said yesterday that he would make as few trips as possible. He hoped to be able to establish a "cart tail" campaign, he said, but urgent requests for speeches have been received from so many sections that he is in doubt what to do.

No definite plans will be made until he has completed his term of service as a juror, the length of which is problematical. The colonel was asked whether he would make speeches in New York City and through the state before starting West, and replied that he did not know. He said that at present he had only two fixed engagements to speak, at the neighboring town of Huntington at a St. Patrick's dinner and on the battlefield at Gettysburg to the convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers on Memorial day.

When he found that he was free for the day, Colonel Roosevelt motored on to New York and spent the day at his editorial office. His visitors were Alexander Moore, publisher of the Pittsburgh Courier, Frederick W. Whitridge, president of the Third Avenue Railway company of New York, and George Morris, a Brooklyn alderman.

BRYAN GIVES VIEWS
ON RECALL PLANSays It Is Not Very Much Different
From Impeachment Except That
It Is In the Hands of The People.

Columbus, O., March 12.—William J. Bryan to-day gave the Ohio constitutional convention his views on the making of a constitution. He spoke in favor of the initiative and referendum and recall, saying that the recall is evolution rather than revolution. Mr. Bryan said that the only difference between the recall as now proposed and impeachment as it has been employed is that in impeachments the trial is before a body of officials while the recall places the decision in the hands of the people.

SITUATION VERY SERIOUS

And European Missionaries Are Ordered
Out of Canton.

Hong Kong, China, March 12.—The situation at Canton, where revolutionaries have been ordered to leave the provisional government, is regarded here as most alarming, and European missionaries have been ordered to quit the city. Three thousand refugees have come here from Canton. The number of persons killed or seriously wounded is estimated at more than one hundred.

ASHES EXPLODE ON SNOW.

Gas Ignites Woman's Clothes and She Is Fatally Burned.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., March 12.—Hot ashes which she emptied yesterday on a snow bank caused in some strange manner an explosion, apparently of gas, that ignited the clothing of Mrs. C. L. Burns of Brookville, near here. The woman threw herself into the snow, but was fatally burned before the flames could be extinguished.

CRAFTSBURY MAN'S SUICIDE.

TAFT MUCH PLEASED.

Over the Reception Which Was Accorded Him in the West.

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Tired but apparently satisfied with the results of his three days' visit to Toledo and Chicago, President Taft got back to Washington today night. The next trip so far in Congress, the president begins next Sunday night, and will take him to Boston and New Hampshire. He has received more congratulatory telegrams than on any recent trip. Most of the messages referred to his Toledo speech Friday night in which he denounced the recall of judges and the recall of judicial decisions. Discussing the trip the president said:

"The reception accorded me by the people puts me under a deep sense of obligation to them. The discussion of questions of government brought forth many sympathetic assurances and the American citizens of foreign birth or descent, of whom several great audiences were composed, seemed especially interested and concerned in the outlines of constitutional problems. The spirit of optimism, of faith in our institutions, of confidence one in another, is as strongly in evidence as at any time in the history of our country."

TO CURB MONOPOLY

By Patentes Over Unpatented Articles
Used in Operating Patented Machines.

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Several bills to curb the monopolizing power of patents over unpatented articles used in operating patented machines began to show life in Congress to-day. Some old bills were revived, and some new ones were drafted in response to an appeal of Chief Justice White of the supreme court for Congress to change the law which a majority of the court found yesterday gave the patentees practically unrestricted privileges regarding the manner in which their patents may be used.

AND BURGLARS ESCAPED

The Mansion Is Owned by William C.
Endicott, a Boston Attorney, and It
Has Been Closed Since Last Fall—
Police Are Working on Case.

Danvers, Mass., March 12.—The Endicott mansion, which is owned by William C. Endicott, an attorney of Boston, was ransacked to-day by burglars. The amount of property secured by the robbers is not known, but it is believed that the amount was comparatively large, notwithstanding the fact that many of the valuables had been placed in a safety deposit vault in Boston when the mansion was closed last fall.

The robbers escaped. The police were called in and are now working on the case.

The present owner of the mansion is a son of the late William C. Endicott, who was secretary of war, and a brother-in-law of Joseph Chamberlain, formerly British secretary of state for colonies.

DEMURRERS FILED

in Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 13.—Demurrers to the indictments against the 45 defendants in the government's prosecution of the alleged dynamiting conspiracy were filed before Judge Anderson by counsel for the indicted men when they were arraigned in the federal court here to-day. Eight of the 54 defendants were not present.

One of the attorneys for the defense then began an argument in support of a motion to quash the indictments on the ground that many of them charged the same offense of conspiracy to transport explosives from state to state illegally.

The Truth About Icebergs.

Many existing theories regarding icebergs require modification. For instance, it has generally been believed that for every cubic foot of ice above water there are seven below, and a berg, therefore, that towers, say, 100 feet above the ocean level has a total height of 800 feet. Lieutenant Peary, the conqueror of the north pole, declares that this is not always the case. "It is true," he says, "that the heaviest portion of the berg is submerged, but it is wrong to say that seven-eighths of its height is under water. I have noted several instances where only two-thirds of a berg is submerged."—St. Nicholas.

A Quaint Notice.

Here is a copy of a notice that was posted up in an art exhibition in Tokyo: "No visitor who is mad or intoxicated is allowed to enter in. If any person found in shall be claimed to retire. No visitor is allowed to carry in with himself any parcel, umbrella, stick and the like kind except his purse and is strictly forbidden to take with himself dog or the same kind of beasts. Visitor is requested to take care of himself from thievery."

RAFFLE ENDED IN RUFFLE.

Joseph Comiskey Stabbed in an Affray at Upper Graniteville.

Little by little the details of an affray, which took place in upper Graniteville late Saturday night, have leaked out and the second chapter in the affair is expected to come within a short time when Deputy Sheriff W. F. Cutler of South Barre will arrest at least two men, who are suspected of having furnished knives when one Joseph Comiskey, a quarryman living in the vicinity, was badly stabbed in the back under the left shoulder. The mixup is alleged to have occurred at the home of Joseph Demijohn.

Young Comiskey was conducting a raffle whereby he desired to dispose of a rifle, and the fight which was there precipitated is believed to have been started when the weapon was awarded to the winner. The original issue is said to have been lost when several turned to the fighting and later, according to the story, the trouble developed into a kind of a race war between the Poles and the Finns.

Dr. E. H. Bailey of Graniteville, who is also health officer for Barre Town, was called to the Demijohn house around 11 o'clock. The physician found young Comiskey lying on a cot and weak from the loss of much blood. An examination revealed a deep cut under the left shoulder, the knife or other sharp weapon used by the man's assailant having penetrated through the muscles of the shoulder to a depth of one and one-half inches. The cut was three inches in length and a few inches lower in the back was the mark of a second blow, which, however, had only grazed the flesh.

Comiskey was in a semi-conscious state at the time owing to the loss of blood and was unable to tell the physician how he received the wound. Dr. Bailey dressed the injuries and was obliged to take several stitches to close the deeper cut. Later in the night, Comiskey was removed to the home of Frank Morgan. Subsequent reports indicate that the young man will recover, although still suffering from the loss of blood.

Owing probably to the polyglot complexion of the guest list at Mr. Demijohn's party, the exact circumstances leading up to the row and the assault on Comiskey are hard to ascertain.

DOCTORS DISCUSSED
TUBERCULOSIS TO-DAYAt Regular Quarterly Meeting of Washington County Medical Association in Barre.

Some twenty-five physicians of the county met at the City hotel this afternoon for the regular quarterly meeting of the Washington County Medical society. Dinner was served the doctors at 1:30 o'clock, and a short business session formally opened the meeting at 2:30 o'clock. The subject announced at the session was "Tuberculosis." Dr. M. L. Chandler of this city read an interesting paper on the topic and discussions which followed were led by Dr. J. H. P. Gifford of Randolph and Dr. C. H. Burr of Montpelier. Dr. Hildwell followed with a paper on "Case Reports," and the discussions at the conclusion of his remarks were conducted by Dr. E. B. Watson of Williamstown.

The last topic to be considered before adjournment was "Tuberculosis of the Kidneys," the paper being read by Dr. John H. Woodruff of Barre. Dr. Michael McGuire and Dr. George H. Farmer followed with discussions in which other physicians also participated.

The present officers of the county association are: President, Dr. C. E. Chandler of Montpelier; secretary, Dr. E. A. Colton of Montpelier; vice-president, Dr. C. J. Rummel of Randolph; treasurer, Dr. L. A. Russlow of Randolph.

At to-day's meeting the physicians were guests of the Barre doctors. The arrangements for the next meeting of the society were left with a committee appointed for that purpose.
